Invitation

The Executive Board of Leiden University has appointed

prof. J.J.M. van Dongen, MD, PhD

as Professor of

Medical Immunology.

I am pleased to announce that he will accept this appointment by delivering his inaugural lecture, entitled “Immune monitoring in patient care. How to use the immune system for diagnosis and disease monitoring”

on November 10, 2017 at 16:15 hrs sharp in the Great Auditorium of the Academy Building, Rapenburg 73 in Leiden.

You are cordially invited to attend this lecture and the reception following the ceremony.

Prof.mr. C.J.J.M. Stolker
Rector Magnificus

In view of the limited number of places available, if you are interested in attending, please register via: www.leidenuniv.nl/agenda

N.B. You are requested to be present at least ten minutes before the beginning of the ceremony.

Please note that parking facilities near the Academy Building are scarce. In accordance with Leiden traditions, professors who have been appointed elsewhere are entitled to take part in the procession following permission from the Secretary of the Doctorate Board (M.Wanders@BB.Leidenuniv.nl).
