

BSI/NVVI meeting

From 6-9 December I attended the joined BSI/NVVI conference in Liverpool. This meeting with 1400 attendees from which 450 Dutch people was for me a good opportunity to learn more about the topic I am interested in for my own research, but also to hear about outstanding research out of the scope of my PhD project. Furthermore, the reactions and suggestions to my poster gave me new ideas for future experiments. Overall, I think that this conference was a useful way to learn about what is currently going on in Immunology and how to implement this in my own research.
